getting it right for every child

Supporting children and young people get more responsive and effective support for their wellbeing wherever they live or learn.

Getting it right for every child* (GIRFEC) is the national approach in Scotland to improving outcomes and supporting the wellbeing of our children and young people by offering the right help at the right time from the right people.

The GIRFEC approach aims to make it easier for parents, children, young people and the services that support them – such as early years services, schools and the NHS - to work together to get it right.

Find out more about GIRFEC at www.gov.scot/girfec, visit _____ or speak to a professional supporting your child, such as a teacher, nursery teacher, child minder, health visitor, or social worker.
