SCOTTISH GOVERNMENT

BIG CHANGES MEAN BIG OPPORTUNITIES.

Childcare workers needed

The Scottish Government is making changes to childcare provision. From the new school term this August the number of hours of free early learning and childcare for children aged three and four will increase from 12.5 to almost 16 hours a week. Some two year olds will also receive this free entitlement.

We need passionate, patient and committed people to help us deliver these changes all across Scotland. People with a range of skills, experience and qualifications. But above all, people who understand how important it is give the next generation the best start in life.

If you feel that you're the right kind of person to help us make a difference to the future of children in Scotland then please contact your local authority or, for more info, visit
