

Conference

Grief & Bereavement in Schools 'Let's Talk About It'

Monday 7th March 2016
9.30am - 4.30pm

Stirling Court Hotel, University of Stirling, Scotland, FK9 4LA

Does your school do enough to support bereaved pupils?

This conference, our first Schools Conference in Scotland is part of our highly successful 'Let's Talk About It' series and aims to develop an understanding of the needs of pupils and staff when someone within the school community is bereaved. It will include presentations and discussion around:

-  Children & Young People - a whole school approach to bereavement
-  The importance of having a bereavement policy
-  Sudden and traumatic death
-  Practical ways to support pupils

Workshops will focus on practical ways schools can support pupils, including those with special educational needs.

Booking or enquiries:

Visit: childbereavementuk.org

Email: conferences@childbereavementuk.org

Call: 01494 568 911

1 in 29 children will be bereaved of a sibling or parent - that's a child in every class

92% of children and young people will experience a significant bereavement before the age of 16

The event is a unique opportunity to learn directly from bereaved pupils, a parent, teacher and other professionals.

Presentations:

-  The bereaved child in school - from early years to adolescence
Dr Ann Rowland, Director of Bereavement Services, Child Bereavement UK
-  School support for bereaved children - A parent's view
Parent Speaker
-  A framework for the management of death and bereavement in schools
Staff from Craigie High School
-  The impact of suicide on the school community
Christine Baird, Samaritans
-  Someone in my family died - A young person's perspective
Young Speaker
-  Working together to support children in Scotland
Richard Stafford, Director of Bereavement Support Scotland, Child Bereavement UK
-  The impact of traumatic experiences on children and young people
Child Psychotherapist

"Well done for such a memorable, informative and cohesive conference"

"Excellent, lots of suggestions of how to support, good practical points"

Delegates, Oct 2015 conference

Workshops:

-  Creative Ways to help pupils express their feelings
Tina Sudlow, Child Bereavement UK
-  All the colours of the rainbow - Bereavement issues among children with special education needs including autistic spectrum conditions
Dr Ann Rowland, Director of Bereavement Services, Child Bereavement UK
-  Anger & challenging behavior related to grief
Richard Stafford, Director of Bereavement Sector Support Scotland, Child Bereavement UK
-  Working with bereaved teenagers in a school setting
Donna Hastings, Richmond's Hope

(Please note that this information is correct at the time of printing but may be liable to change.)

Who should attend?

- School Governors
- Educational Psychologists
- Head Teachers, Teachers & Learning Mentors
- School Counselling Support Staff
- School Chaplains
- Children's Centre Personnel
- LEA Leads
- School Nurses
- Health & Well Being Coordinators
- Voluntary organisations that work with schools

Booking or enquiries:

Visit: childbereavementuk.org/training
Email: conferences@childbereavementuk.org
Call: 01494 568911

Fee: £45

Supported by

