

Doors

A painter has red, yellow, green and blue paint. He has been asked to paint the doors of all the houses in the street, but each door must look different from the others.

Can you help him?

