

Don't Arrest Me

Outside, it was dark and really windy but inside it was cold. Simon was in the town hall. He took off his black coat and put on his mask. He tiptoed down the corridor as quiet as a mouse. It was beginning to get colder. Then he could hear a tap leaking and he heard footsteps.

He went into a room he could hear the footsteps again. Simon saw a picture of the mayor but it fell. At that moment he heard a briefcase bang on to the floor. Simon trembled and hid behind a chair and Simon said who is making that terrifying noise?

Six hours before he went to the town hall to see who won the money to the art competition. Matthew won the money but he forgot to collect it because a photographer wanted to take his picture for the paper. So Simon thought that he could steal the money and be rich. But he can't find it.

Two minutes later he was about to get the money but the lights turned on without any warning. He turned around and blinked like an owl. It was police man Mike he said put your hand in the air! And Simon said "Don't Arrest me". Mike put handcuffs on him and put him in the police car. It took five minutes to get to the police station. Later he was in his prison bed thinking about what happened he was as angry as a kettle boiling! Outside the wind stopped and you could still hear the terrifying footsteps. By Reuben