

The power plant

Jason is playing and having fun with his friends at the decommissioned power plant playing in on the sunny day. Suddenly Jason's mum came with McDonald's. Suddenly he turned and John where was he? He looked in the forest there was no sign of John he sat and ate.

After he ate the sky went dark and silent he went inside and creaked into the darkness he saw an 8ft stickman covered in blankets running around he froze silently in the darkness and then ran for his life.

He got back to the village then he saw John said oi where have you been? I've been looking for you everywhere Jason said eh I was in the power plant looking for YOU well at least we're safe now.
