

Times are challenging at the moment, I bet you never thought you would miss going to school! I want you to have a think about why education is important and what going to school means to you.

Jot down some notes answering the following questions:

Why is education important?

What are your favourite memories of primary school so far?

What do you miss most when you are not at school?

What is the best learning you have been part of? Did it take place in school (this could be an excellent maths lesson or a school trip you have been on).

I also want you to think about what would it be like to never have access to school?

Use your notes to create a piece of text which sums up your ideas. This can be in the form of a blog post or writing two or three paragraphs. Make sure you:

- Use the answers to the above questions to inform your thinking.
- Write in a logical manner.
- Include relevant punctuation and grammar.

Then I would like you to create a WordArt picture containing your key words and thoughts.
