Art ideas

Can you create another front cover for a book? Remember to think about making it eye-catching for the reader. You can use this template or create your own.

Can you create a model or a drawing of a book character? You could use Lego, junk modelling or outdoor materials. You could even create your character using a wooden spoon or a potato.

Create your own bookmark to help you to keep your place the next time you dive into a good book! Use this template or create your own.

Fun ideas

Take a photo of yourself reading in the most unusual or creative place you can! Use this template or share a photo.

Can you think of some clues about a book character? Read your clues to someone at home and see if they can guess the character. For example, my character has glasses and a scar on his forehead. He goes to a school and learns magic.

Create your own cosy reading nook or den somewhere in your house and spend some time curled up with a good book. Remember to share a picture.
