

The Women, Children, Young People and Families (WCYPF) team at NHS Education for Scotland (NES) are delighted to announce a national suite of resources is now available, to help improve understanding of the transformed role of School Nurses in Scotland.

These resources aim to ensure children and young people get the right help at the right time by raising awareness of how School Nursing services can support their health and wellbeing.

 Access the resources via: School Nursing Awareness Resources, or scan the QR code.

 Who are these resources for? Children and young people, parents and families, school staff and education partners, and health and social care professionals. Anyone interested in learning more about School Nursing

 What you can do: Access and download the resources. Use them in practice. Share with families, partners, and colleagues.

Together we can help improve awareness about school nursing, to support children and young people in Scotland.

 For further information: wcypf@nes.scot.nhs.uk

wcypf@nes.scot.nhs.uk

School Nursing
Awareness Resources

\(https://learn.nes.nhs.scot/88628\)