Enabling a culture of everyday accountability for children's rights NES and Improvement Service.

We know that for many disabled young people the transition to young adult life presents challenges. It is therefore critical that we support disabled young people to have as positive an experience as possible during this time of change. This is not a single event, but a process which takes place over a number of years.

The webinar will:

- Provide an overview of the UNCRC (Incorporation) (Scotland) Act 2024 and children's rights.
- Give an opportunity to hear from young people about their experiences of transition.
- Present the key principles of good transitions.
- Provide an update about the transitions to adulthood strategy.
- Offer practical information about tools/resources that can be used in practice to support good transitions.

Presenters:

- NHS Education Scotland and the Improvement Service
- Children and Families Directorate, Scottish Government
- Association for Real Change (ARC)
