

How many counters?

Can you find objects like these and measure them using counters or coins?

