

How to Use

Speech to Text Dictate Function

A step-by-step guide

What is Dictate?

Dictation lets you use speech-to-text to author content in Office with a microphone and reliable internet connection.

Use your voice to quickly create documents, emails, notes, presentations, or even slide notes.

Where can I use Dictate?

Press the following keys to start using dictation anywhere.

Windows + H

Microsoft Dictate for Word

1. Open your word document.
2. Go to Home > Dictate. First-time users will be prompted to enable microphone permissions.

3. A mic icon will appear - wait for it to turn on to be sure it started listening.

4. Insert punctuation any time by saying them clearly. See page 9 & 10.
5. Exit dictation with Close (X) in the Dictation toolbar or pressing the button in the ribbon again.

Dictate settings in Word

Click on the gear icon to see the following settings:

Auto Punctuation: Toggle the check-mark on or off, if it is available for the language chosen.

Profanity filter: Mask potentially sensitive phrases with ****.

Spoken Language: View and change languages in the drop-down.

Dictate in Word on Your Phone

1. On an Android Phone, tap the small microphone icon to toggle on the dictation experience.

2. Tap on the large microphone icon and start speaking.

Insert punctuation at any time by saying them explicitly or using the punctuation toolbar.

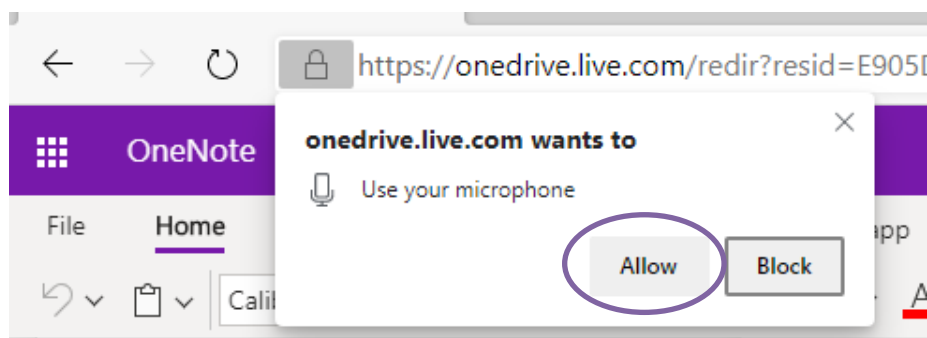

At any time, tap the microphone again to pause dictation or tap the keyboard button to switch back to the keyboard.

Fix mistakes by using touch to delete the content and speak again or toggling on the keyboard.

Dictate in OneNote

1. Go to Home > Dictate (the button that looks like a microphone) while signed in to your Microsoft account on a mic-enabled device.

2. Wait for the Dictate button to turn on and start listening.

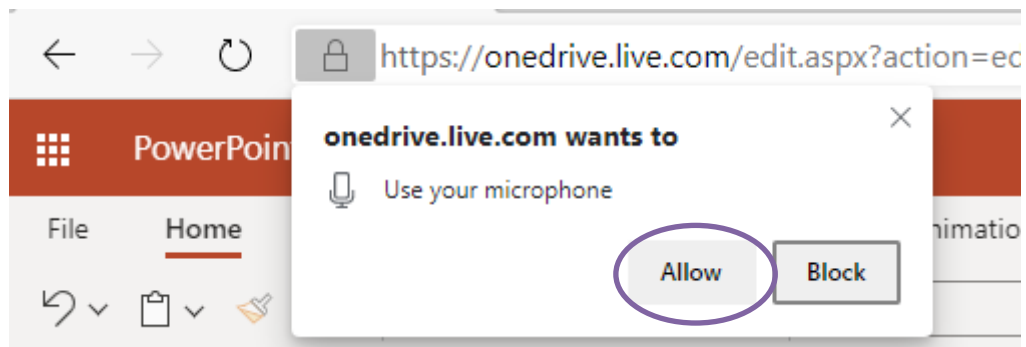

3. Start speaking to see text appear on the screen.
4. Insert punctuation at any time by saying them clearly. See page 9 & 10.
5. Fix mistakes with your keyboard without having to toggle the mic icon off.

Dictate in PowerPoint

1. Go to Home > Dictate (the button that looks like a microphone) while signed into your Microsoft account on a mic-enabled device.

2. Wait for the button to turn on and start listening.

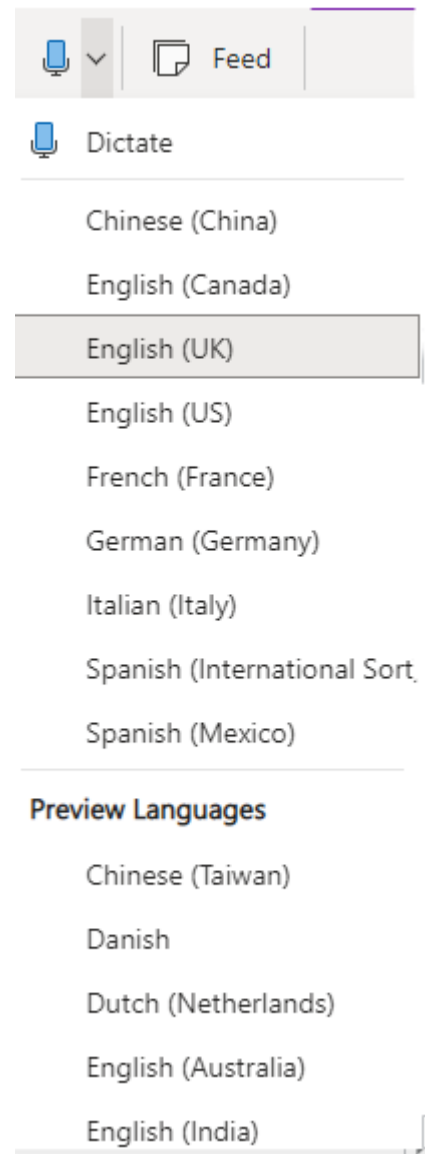

3. Move your cursor to a slide or to the slide notes and start speaking to see text appear.
4. Insert punctuation at any time by saying them clearly. See page 9 & 10.
5. Fix mistakes with your keyboard without having to toggle the mic icon off.

Dictate in a Foreign Language

Microsoft Dictate allows you to enter text and commands into Office with your voice in a different language.

In total, you can use Microsoft Dictate with 13 languages. Several of the supported languages have multiple variants as well, such as English, French.

- Chinese Simplified
- Chinese (Taiwanese)
