Deaf Awareness Week

Last week was Deaf Awareness Week and Friday's HI Department coffee morning was a wonderful celebration. Thank you to all our guests from the community.

If you haven't already seen them, please watch the videos of Harry , Rhys, Nicole and Judy on the Grange Twitter. They sign some great messages about classroom life from the perspective of someone with hearing loss.

Deaf Awareness Week

In Rhys's video, he reminded us that many deaf people use lip reading to aid communication and the best way we can help is to face them and keep our faces uncovered.

Deaf Awareness Week

In Judy's video , she explained that she wishes all her hearing peers would be a bit quieter during lessons to allow her to hear better.

Deaf Awareness Week

In Harry's video, he explained that he'd love it if hearing people would make the effort to learn a little bit of basic sign language to allow him to communicate with them.

Deaf Awareness Week

In Nicole's video, she explained that shouting doesn't help a deaf person to understand what you are saying.

Speaking normally is the best thing to do.

Thank you to Mr Houston and his School of Rugby team of coaches and players for their leadership of #TalkAGoodGame.

As described in last week's Kilmarnock Standard, a lot of great work is being led by Mr Houston on the issue of encouraging conversation around mental health.

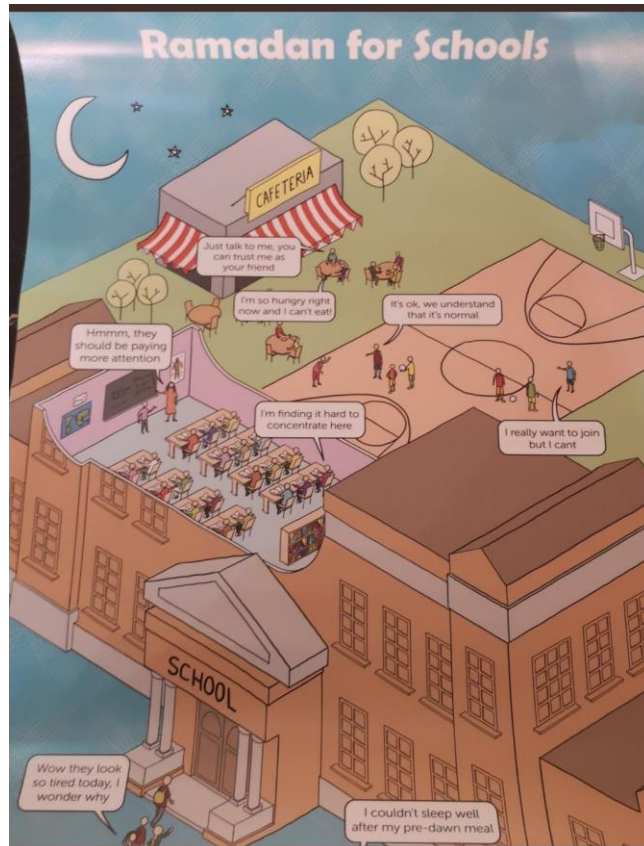

It was nice to spot that the writer of the article was former pupil, Lochlin Hight.
