Chemistry Magic

In Higher Chemistry last week, pupils were learning how an aldehyde is oxidised to an acid, using something called Tollen's Agent. It contains silver ions which are converted to silver atoms. This is how some mirrors are made.

Yes, Sir. I Can Boogie

Following last week's Scottish football news, some of our SFA Performance School pupils spent some time re-enacting the penalty shoot-out!

Your Budget Ideas

Thank you to all pupils who responded to the survey in PSE from the Grange Parent Council. They always love hear pupils' decisions about how their fundraising money should be spent. Miss MacKinnon will take all your ideas to tomorrow night's Parent Council meeting and will let you know what they're buying you!

Thank you

Thank you to everyone who took note of the message in last week's bulletin about keeping up standards of behaviour and manners. A quick reminder: we spoke about swearing; following instructions; staying in classes instead of wandering; and speaking to each other in a kind tone including "please" and "thank you".

There has been some improvement – well done. That will make relationships feel nice and the atmosphere of the school calm. It's so important not to let that slip. However, these standards need to be shown in the community too...

Message from PC McPike:

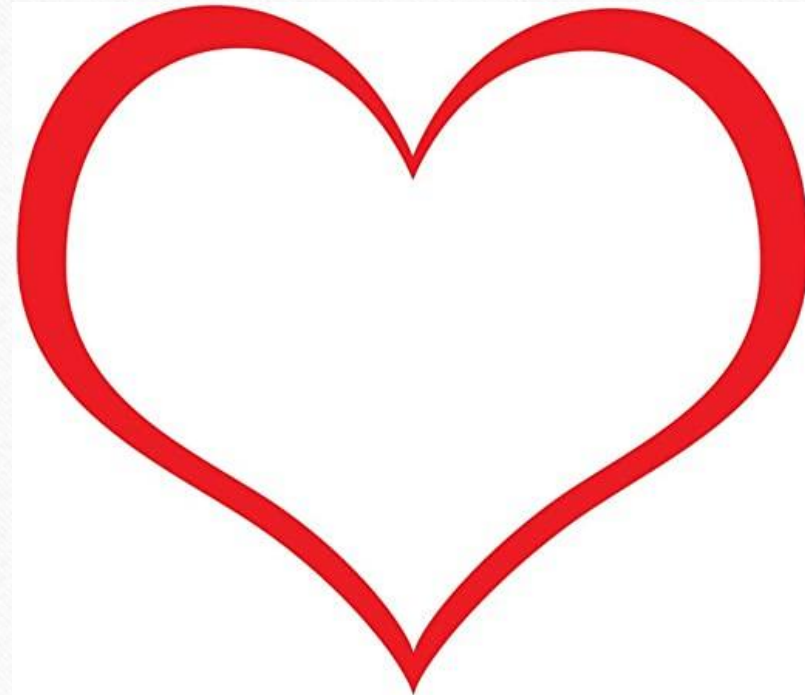

The manager of the Spar shop has been in contact in relation to some Grange pupils being cheeky, refusing to wear masks and not following staff instructions about the numbers allowed in the shop at one time. There is also some suspicion of shoplifting which is being investigated by the police, supported by images.

If there are repeat offenders of this type of behaviour, they will be barred from the shop and PC McPike will make contact with your parents/carers.

Thank you

Having addressed that, we must acknowledge the hundreds of you who come to school day in, day out, and are wonderfully respectful and kind.

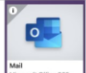

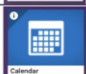

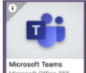

We see you! Thank you.

Learning from Home

Remember that if you are self-isolating (but not unwell) all the information you need to be able to keep up with your learning is on the school app and the school website.

Love is...

Thanks to everyone who has been taking part in East Ayrshire Council's 'Love is...' campaign. As our community moves into Tier 4, the 'Love is...' campaign is designed to remind us all to take care of ourselves and others, to stay positive, and to keep the faith that we will get through Covid together.
