WEEKLY PUZZLE

Let's get our brains warmed up with a quick riddle. Can you solve it?

I am three different words that sound the same. One you can smell, one you can spend, and one that is delivered.

What am I?

Homophones

Words that sound the same but have different meanings and spellings.

FREEDOM

Miss Bonnar's Social Subjects class have been discussing what freedom means to them – do you agree?

Freedom is being able to make your own choices, being able to walk free with no restrictions to where I can go or what I can do. Having a voice that can be heard.

Freedom is not being controlled, to be able to have your own opinion, to be able to have choices rather than just being told you're doing something. To not feel pressurised or trapped. Freedom is to have freedom of speech.

Freedom is when you can travel, talk, walk and adventure freely.

Freedom is feeling safe in your own home and having the right to social media. It's to express your feelings and opinions to everyone.

Freedom is being who you want to be and doing what you want with no one judging you.

Freedom is doing whatever you want.

Freedom is where you don't get controlled by the government.

Freedom is something you can do without getting arrested or harassed.
