

P7 NEWSLETTER - TERM 1

NOTE FROM MRS HARPER

Hello,

It has been a busy start to the term, however Primary 7 have settled down well into their new class. We are working on establishing routines - especially at gym time and at the end of the day.

They are enjoying taking on new responsibilities in the school and have had many compliments from staff on how helpful they have been with the new Primary 1 children - especially in the playground and at lunch time.

Mrs Hislop will be in class on a Tuesday and I will be in class the rest of the week.

I will be in contact with transition information throughout the year as I have it.

LITERACY

Our first novel study this term is a new book, released in 2024 called "The Final Year" by Matt Goodfellow. It is about a pupil's final year at Primary School and the class are enjoying it already.

NUMERACY

In Numeracy, we are learning about Rounding and Estimation, leading on to Place Value.

Mrs Hislop will be teaching about Time on a Tuesday.

ENDANGERED ANIMALS

The pupils voted for our topic and have chosen "Endangered Animals". We have begun to explore which animals are endangered and what are the issues which cause animals to become endangered.

CLASS CHARTER

After a LOT of discussion, votes, and art work - we have established our class charter with a theme of "Candyland".

Articles 12, 28, 29, 30 and 31 were the ones chosen to feature on our charter as being important to our class.

INFORMATION

- Our PE days will be on Tuesday and Friday and gym shoes will also be required on a Wednesday for a short session in the dinner hall.
- The children are welcome to bring in water to drink throughout the day.
