

WORKING IN WELLIES

Dr Hannah Mathers

Lecturer in Geography & Earth Science

University of Glasgow

From: Northumberland.

A levels: Geography, Biology, English Literature.

Gap year: Bookshop, National Park, Travel in USA.

Degree: Geology & Physical Geography.

Teaching & research interests: Glacial geomorphology (landforms that glaciers leave behind) inclusive learning, student identity.

What I love about my job: Working with learners, teaching in the field, visiting beautiful places in rural Scotland, combining science and creativity.

Outside work: Being a mum, running, walking, yoga, vegetarian food, birdwatching, cinema & arts.

Contact me: hannah.mathers@glasgow.ac.uk