Get involved...

'The importance of parental involvement in a child's education cannot be overstated.'

Your school has taken this resource on board as the staff team believe that it will do much to engage their learners, support their educators and of course involve you as parents.

Soon your child may be asked and encouraged to access the resource from home simply to foster a love of reading or perhaps to complete some specific tasks that have been set by their classroom teacher. These could be Higher Order Thinking Skills Questions, Creative Tasks or even Reading Test Questions.

We hope that you will support your child and the school staff as we work with your school to implement this resource successfully and ensure it contributes to successful outcomes for all learners.

Please do get in touch with your school to learn more about Giglets. Discover how your child will be using the resource and learn how you can use it to support learning from home.

About us

Giglets Education is a multi-award-winning education company based in Ayrshire, Scotland.

The Giglets resource was launched in 2015 by Craig Johnstone, our CEO, and Dr Karsten Karcher, our Chairman. Inspired through Craig's poor experiences of reading and literacy at school combined with Karsten's passion for learning, we set to work to make a positive, lasting change in education.

Today we are supported by a dedicated international team of technology and education professionals. We partner with governments, global companies and philanthropists and strive to Engage Learners, Support Educators and Involve Parents.

THE GIGLETS LIBRARY

The Giglets library is home to a diverse range of books introducing stories and subjects from both classic and contemporary sources. Giglets brings these books to life through vigorous, considered and inspiring storytelling and teaching techniques.

As a result you and your child can experience some wonderful stories together. Use Giglets to support your child's learning and development and then stand back and watch as they really start to explore.
