

Belle and her friends Laura and Paul walked quietly past the old haunted house in Cumnock. A flapping movement made them pause and look to see the cause. They all smiled when they saw it was only a piece of gauze, stuck in the window, moving in the breeze.

Ben and Belle were going to visit their uncle who lived on the island of Lewis. He stayed in a new house. They had to fly from Glasgow by plane. Belle was frightened and drew a picture as the plane flew. The crew were very friendly and they gave the twins gum to chew to help them keep calm.

Before they knew it, they were landing on the tiny new runway on Lewis. It took a few minutes
