

RSPB Big Garden Birdwatch (29th-31st Jan 2021)

Last week we were looking at adding a small feeding station to our gardens or outdoor spaces. I hope you managed to look at the shape, colour and size of all the different birds who visited you.

This week I would like you to spend time seeing if you can name the different birds who visit. Perhaps you could draw them.

The link below will take you to the RSPB page on bird identification.

I hope you have fun trying to identify all the birds around you. If you cannot see your bird here and are unsure what you have seen you could look at the RSPB bird identifier guide:

I hope you are enjoying trying to identify all the birds you can see and if you would like to take part in the Big Garden Birdwatch follow the link below:
