

What's it like being... DYSLEXIC?

$\sqrt{576}=?$

Some dyslexics are good at art...

Others are good at design, technology...

...sport or drama.

Perhaps you haven't found out what you are good at yet.

You will have to work harder than others while you are at school.

That will mean extra lessons, but taught in a way you learn.

Aaaaaww! Not extra lessons!

Nessy

Tom does have extra lessons, but he plays games and learns quickly so it doesn't seem so bad.

This is a lot more fun than Mr Teasewell's lessons!

Nessy 10/10

Mr Teasewell apologises...

I'm sorry I called you lazy. Here is a huge box of chocolates!

Things will be better from now on - THE END!

Some of the cleverest people in the world have been dyslexic.

Albert Einstein (Scientist)

Leonardo Da Vinci (Inventor/Artist)

$E=MC^2!$

Dyslexia is passed on through families.

DCDC2: Dyslexia gene

Can you think of anyone in your family who might be dyslexic?

Dyslexics have bigger brains.

Dyslexic brain

Non-dyslexic brain

Bigger

This bit doesn't work well with word stuff!

40% of self-made millionaires are dyslexic.

Dyslexic Richard Branson has 360 companies and a fortune of $2.8 billion!

With determination and creative ideas, many dyslexics become successful entrepreneurs.

Dyslexics are often creative.

Benjamin Zephaniah (Famous Writer/Poet)

Keira Knightley (Famous Actress)

Not all dyslexics are hyper-talented geniuses. Many are just ordinary people.

Being dyslexic means that school is likely to be one of the hardest times of your life...

AT SCHOOL

AFTER SCHOOL!!!

...But many dyslexics do well when they leave school because they can do what they are good at!