

What if... a conversation about suicide could save a life?

Suicide is a topic that makes many of us nervous; it can feel like the hardest thing in the world.

What if I say the wrong thing? Could I make the situation worse? Maybe I'm worrying over nothing and would look foolish to bring it up?

But here's something lots of people don't realise.

Talking about suicide is the best way to prevent it from happening.

Learn more at:
SuicidePrevention.scot

Suicide
Prevention
Scotland.

What if... a conversation about suicide could save a life?

Ross made a plan
to die by suicide.

His friends listening,
without judgement,
is a big reason he is alive today.

Watch Ross' story at:

SuicidePrevention.scot

Suicide
Prevention
Scotland.

What if... a conversation about suicide could save a life?

Seonaid lost her son Dylan to suicide and wishes anyone asked him if he wanted to end his life.

Watch Seonaid's story at:

SuicidePrevention.scot

Suicide
Prevention
Scotland.

