Bonus Level—beat the BOSS 2

Image cloud. Collect as many images as you can that reflect something to do with your book.

REMEMBER: all your images must be linked to your book or the characters in some way! You can draw/colour/print your pics..

TOP TIP: Make a list of topics before you go looking for images, if you have created a word cloud then you could use that for help. Why not cut up old magazines and newspa-

Level One—No grieving

Fakebook: for any character in your book. What would they be posting about and who would be their friends and what would be their likes and in their image gallery?

REMEMBER: try to do this completely in character and use other characters to flesh it out.

Level Five—update the dlc

What happened next? Write up a paragraph about what happens AFTER your book has finished.

REMEMBER: use the last few pages of the book to help you.

TOP TIP: have a think about what you would have liked to have seen. Give nice characters a happier ending and bad characters a grisly end? Too short and you get no XP!

And then

Level Two—trap the dragon

To promote "Year of Brill Books" you have been hired by the Scottish Executive to create a bookmark promoting your book.

REMEMBER: include author and title and use both sides.

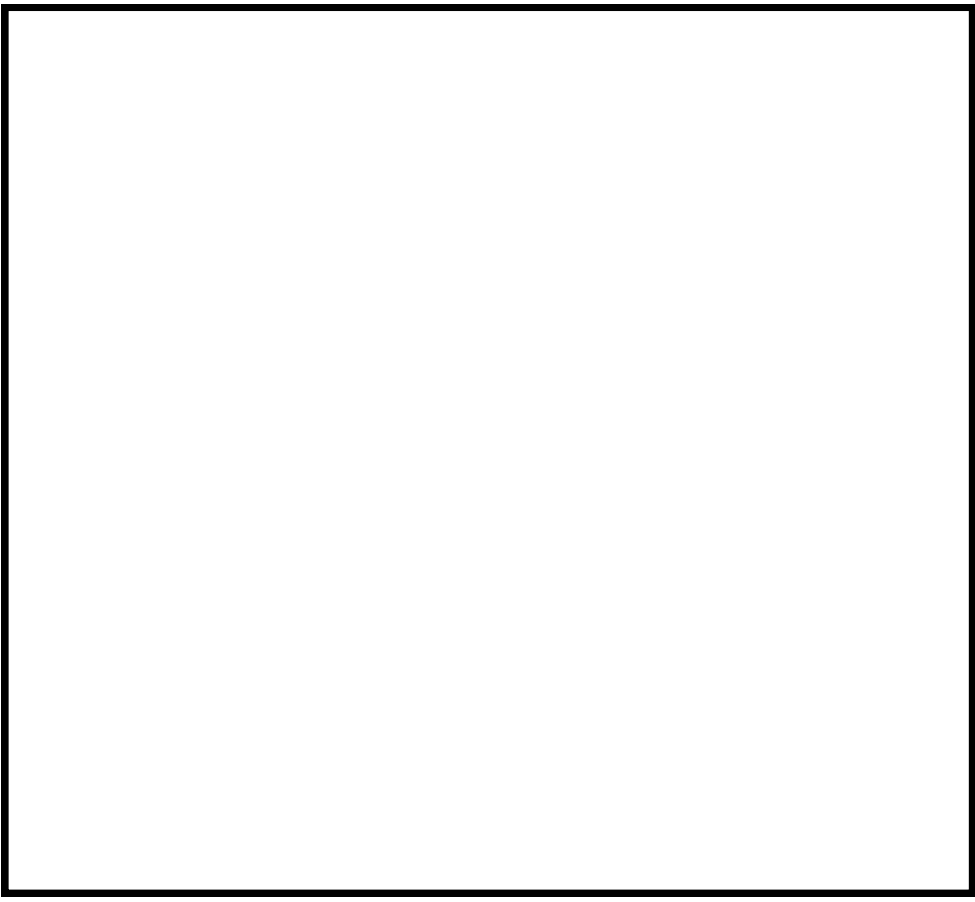

F	B

Level Four—escape from Mount Doom

Tourist trap: choose one location from your book and create a page for it as it would be found in a travel brochure or online site.

REMEMBER: Take a note of as many details as you can from the book itself.

TOP TIP: take a look at some magazines or web sites for an idea on how to plan your page. Use your imagination if the book does not give you many details. Destinations may not always be pleasant.

Level Three—find boots of magic

Fashion focus—create a T-shirt to either promote your book or as everyday wear for your main character

REMEMBER: be bold in your design and include the back and sleeves in your final product.
