The pupils have also completed video interviews and are in the process of editing their material. Keep checking the school website for more on what they have worked on.

The S5/6 pupils studying Media Studies have been editing content using the most up to date BBC technology with the help and guidance of Chris O'Rourke and Holly Ritchie from the BBC.

The S2 and S3s were hard at work completing their written news reports which are now live on the BBC school report website. They really enjoyed gathering information and producing written work for a real purpose and a real audience!
