A National Care Service for Scotland

The Scottish Government is currently running an important consultation which sets out how they propose to improve the way social care is delivered in Scotland. They want to:

- Ensure that care is person-centred and human rights based
- Provide greater recognition and support for unpaid carers
- Improve conditions for the workforce
- Have more effective scrutiny and improvement of social care services.

They are particularly keen to hear from people with lived experience to help design the systems and services to support these aims.

The consultation is running till November 2nd.

More information and details of how to respond individually or through online events is available at :

www.consult.gov.scot

Continuing to Stay Safe

Although Scotland is now beyond Level 0 everyone should continue to be careful. To stay safe and protect others you should still:

- get the vaccine when you are offered it
- meet outside and try to keep your distance from others
- wash your hands and surfaces regularly
- get a test and stay at home if you have symptoms
- take regular tests if you don't have symptoms

The annual No Substitute for Life football tournament takes place in Renfrewshire on World Mental Health Day October 10th.

It brings the community together to raise awareness of the issue of suicide among young men and women. Hundreds of footballers and supporters turn out each year.

The event is organised by

RAMH supports people in East Renfrewshire and Renfrewshire in their recovery from mental ill health.

About Your Voice.....

Your Voice is a group of individuals and organisations who want to influence and support the redesign of health and social care services in East Renfrewshire.

We currently have representatives from carers, mental health, faith, older people, disability groups, and also individuals interested in health and social care.

We meet monthly to plan any activity. This is currently online but would normally be building based.

We are always looking for new people to get involved. If you would like to find out more about what we do and how we work please contact us.

STAY UP LATE SCOTLAND

Stay Up Late Scotland is a network of people and organisations who are all committed to enable people with learning disabilities to lead great social lives.

It started as a response to people often having to leave events and gigs early because their support finished at a certain time. It has further developed to support people with learning disabilities and autism to do what they want when they want and to have fun.

Michael McEwan is a member of Your Voice and also Chair of Stay Up Late National Committee in Scotland. Michael is keen to raise awareness of the organisation and its aims.

For more information please contact him on stayuplatescotland@gmail.com or go online at www.stayuplate.org

Do you have any ideas for future Bulletin articles?

Our next issue is planned for November. We would love to know if there is something that you would like to share or encourage people to get involved in.

Would you like to get more involved?

Your Voice is open to anyone who lives or works in East Renfrewshire. Our Terms of Reference is on the website. Please let us know if you would like a copy or are interested in finding out more.
