St Ninian's High School is very successfully sustaining high standards over time. Young people achieve outstanding outcomes.

Over time, there is a relentless focus on the use of data to get the very best outcomes for young people. The school's drive for improving attainment is based on knowing each young person as an individual, based on the school's values. Young people have ready access to specialist subject staff to assist them in taking forward actions from tracking and monitoring. This may be from their teachers, funding of additional subject specialists and through school-based mentoring schemes.

Offering a Curriculum for All

“The Catholic Leadership course was a very beneficial subject for me personally during my time in S5. It helped me develop valuable leadership skills while still basing the skills on my Faith. Furthermore, this leadership course also gave an extra SQA qualification as it is the equivalent of an SCQF Level 6 award.”

Saul Curran (S6) SCQF Level 6 Leadership Award Student

Pupil Experience

“I completed the Uniformed and Emergency Services course at Glasgow Kelvin College. The thing I liked the most about this course was the independence of college, it was also good to meet new people.”

Josh Kerr (S6) SCQF Level 5 Uniformed and Emergency Service Student

“As well as the theory of the barista course, we have also been able to put our skills into practice by using the school’s professional barista machine.”

Emma Dougan (S6) & Sarah Holmes (S6) SCQF Level 5 Barista Students

“The innovative, dynamic course allows me to consolidate my curricular learning by complimenting it with engaging activities and practical tasks which enable me to contextualise my learning. These hands on tasks develop my depth of understanding regarding the course content while presenting opportunities for me to develop my intrinsic creativity.”

Zainab Alani (S6) SCQF Level 8 Human Body Function Structure Student

Staff are committed to the development of health and wellbeing (HWB) across learning. A clear strategy ensures that all members of the school community share an understanding of the importance of wellbeing and their respective responsibilities.

At the core of the school's vision is the commitment to ensure the wellbeing of all young people. Young people are aspirational for themselves and each other. They are proud of their school and their achievements. Young people are encouraged and supported by staff to achieve their potential.

The extensive range of out-of-class experiences are promoting positive attitudes to HWB. The recognition of group and individual achievements is supporting the building of self-esteem.

 How to Care Deeply Without Burning Out
 Mindfulness teaches us to be aware of and responsive to the emotions of others. But when we face the suffering of others without equanimity, our empathetic response can overwhelm us.

Provision of Bible Texts and use of online Bibles using mobile phones to limit sharing of Bibles. Increased use of mobile phones in class to access a variety of resources and information. Work uploaded to Microsoft Teams for pupils absent from classes especially those isolating. Use of online social media to celebrate success and achievement.

Additional staffing – used to support key pupils who and / or teaching staff as not yet on track to pass / achieve their full potential

Departmental budget ensures that no pupils need to buy any of their own materials, this allows for equity across all courses
Resource packs given out to all pupils, allowing pupils to continue to work at home where access to the school may be limited

Art, Design & Tech

Pastoral Support

By teaching our caseload in PSHE we ensure there is a weekly point of contact with all of our pupils.
We ensure key themes are taught in PSHE and have introduced SCQF Awards in Wellbeing and Volunteering.

Maths

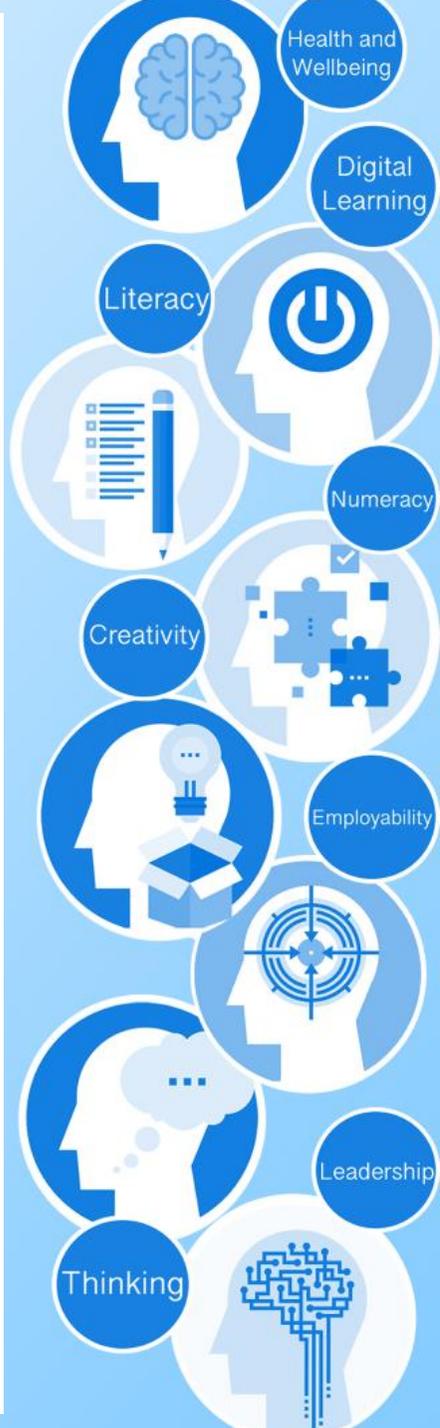

We offer a homework club for all S1-3 pupils to allow them to receive support with the work of the class or their homework
Support is targeted where needed at all
Additional staffing is being used to target pupils who have gaps through lockdown or self-isolation

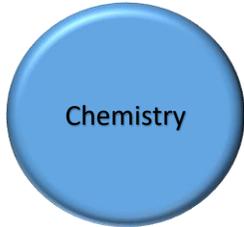

All of our resources are published on our website so Parents and Pupils can access; paper copies are freely available. We are a data rich department who are able to identify specific areas which pupils require assistance.
We offer every stage additional support; especially S4-S6.

Physics

Music

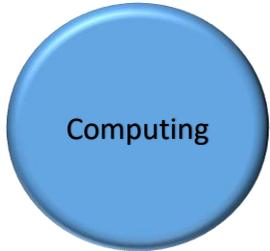

Allowing pupils to listen to pieces they were playing.
They were required to listen to recordings of their pieces. We find that learning by ear is so beneficial to pupils as it enhances not only their practical ability but also their musical knowledge.

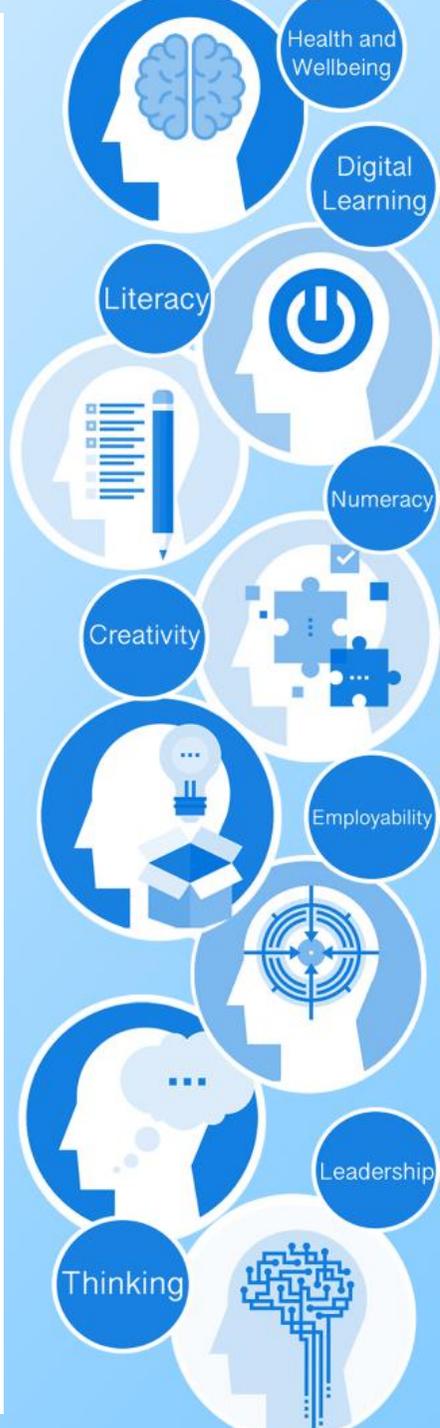

The department produced high quality resources and used the digital technology to enhance this in the form of screencasts and video feedback on an overview of homework submission. Forms was used at the end of the week to check understanding. The scores from the forms were recorded to monitor progress.

No written homework is issued instead we use weekly (upper school) fortnightly (middle school) tests. These are on recently taught topics and pupils know what is coming up. High expectations with regards to performance (retrieval practice).

We consistently review and update our courses to make it as relevant as possible. Examples are introduction of the Games Development Course in S2 along with Global Game Jam. Introduction of new NPA courses in Cybersecurity and widening of levels in NPA Computer Games Development to cover level 4 to 6

His /
Mod

We asked pupils to complete evaluations of their distance learning experience in History and Modern Studies. We received more than 200 returns. The overwhelming majority of feedback from pupils was very positive about their experience of distance learning in History and Modern Studies.

We deliver individualised support to identified pupils where required. For example, weekly pupil check-ins to support with management of studies and strategies in the class; weekly one-to-one support on social skills and sustaining and developing friendships for some of our ASN pupils.

We make targeted use of extra staffing to support pupils requiring help in each of the skill areas. Focused supported study is offered in key areas such as N5 and Higher orals preparation and practice.

English

Personal reflective folio writing is an opportunity for pupils to practise the dispositions of personal reflection and self-expression. Where this brings concerns about well-being to the surface, we refer pupils to Pastoral Support and to the PT of Health and Wellbeing, where further support can be provided. Our choice of Close Reading texts provides opportunities to reflect on a range of moral and civic issues.

We continue to promote the success and achievements of pupils across various platforms. We work with departments to identify opportunities for certifications (Saltire, SCQF etc.) We work with staff in attainment programmes in the Senior Phase.
