

BFI Film Academy Scotland Residential 2018

Are you 16-19? Passionate about film? Want a career in the film industry?

If so, BFI Film Academy Scotland Residential 2018 is for you.

Applications are now open for young people aged 16-19 from across the UK to attend the BFI Film Academy Scotland Residential, running from Tuesday 24th July to Friday 3rd August in Edinburgh.

As a student of the Film Academy:

- You will get hands-on filmmaking experience which will help you to develop practical knowledge and skills.
- You can explore your own creativity and passions in a supportive and dynamic environment.
- You will work in teams towards a making a film.

Over the course of eleven intensive days between Tuesday 24th July and Friday 3rd August, passionate young filmmakers will get the low down on the world of film, with hands on training in screenwriting, camera, directing, production, sound and editing, with participants collaborating to produce three short films, learn from some of the best producers, directors, screenwriters and craft talent in the UK film Industry through masterclasses, learn about the wider world of film, from education to development to finance and festivals with key industry professionals, given advice and support towards a future career, and spend time in picturesque Edinburgh.

Previous course participants have learnt from talent working on a diverse range of films including 45 Years, The 5th Wave, Anna and the Apocalypse, Adult Life Skills, The Angel's Share, Children of Men, The Disappearance of Alice Creed, The Descent 2, Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas, The Girl with All the Gifts, I Daniel Blake, Macbeth, Not Another Happy Ending, Red Road, Scott Pilgrim vs the World, Sunshine on Leith, Under the Skin and award winning short filmmakers that have screened at major International Film Festivals.

We encourage all young people keen on this opportunity to apply, no matter your means. Bursaries for travel to and from Edinburgh may be available. Being a residential course, all food, travel and accommodation whilst in Edinburgh over the eleven days will be provided for.

The cost to attend will range from £0 to £210 depending on your household income. Due to generous support from the Department for Education, Creative Scotland, Lottery funding and Northern Ireland Screen we can heavily subsidise the cost of fees.

Jointly funded by the British Film Institute and Creative Scotland, the BFI Film Academy aims to help train and inspire the next generation of British filmmakers, supporting talented and committed young people aged 16-19 to develop their commercial and cultural knowledge, and skills to help make a career in film a reality.

This opportunity is targeted at young people who are keen to develop a career in film making and have some experience in filmmaking; you may have attended a BFI Film Academy across the UK Network, be about to start a college course, or be making films independently. Any young person who has previously attended a BFI Craft Residential or is currently studying a film related course at university is not eligible to apply.
