CALL Scotland

Run by specialist staff (CALL, FAACT, KEYCOMM, SCTCI, TASSCC and others) and funded by Augmentative Communication in Practice: Scotland, this is a chance for families of children with additional support needs to try out and learn about software, hardware, and specialised communication technologies. If you are a professional you are welcome to come along with a family you work with. What's on: chat with experienced staff about technology and software, demonstrations, presentations, 'hands on' time with computers and toys, games, snacks, Smart Wheelchair rides, information, prizes and more!

The day is free, but please book a place in advance, and tell us the ages of the children you are bringing. Call on 0131 651 6236 in advance to discuss any special arrangements your family may require. Information about parking etc can be found at www.callscotland.org.uk/family-fun-day.

Early booking is advised!

The day is FREE and refreshments will be provided. Drop in for a couple of hours, or stay all day!
