Student sent home from school for charging classmates to use hand wash

A student was sent home from school On Wednesday after he charged his classmates 50p for a squirt of hand wash.

The student picked up a £1.40 tub of Johnson's child hand wash from a Tesco store before waiting on the school bus and charging his fellow students to use it.

The enterprise earned him a £7.60 profit, however, he was subsequently sent home for breaching school rules.

- How many squirts of hand wash did he provide before he was sent home?
