

La Météo

Look at the weather chart. Cut out the French words and phrases at the bottom of the page and glue them under the pictures to make a French weather report. The French days of the week have been given a capital letter here because they are at the start of the sentence but remember that, unlike writing in English, they do not normally need a capital letter. Look at the French weather slides to help you match the phrases to the pictures. The first one has been done for you.
