

Capital Letters, Full Stops and Question Marks

These little bits of text need to be corrected. Can you write them out again, putting the punctuation etc in the correct places? Choose mild, hot or extra hot.

- I fell off my bike. My leg really hurts now.
- My best friend is Tom. We play football in his garden.
- Can you see my red pen? I don't know where I put it.

- I wish that dog would stop barking. It has been doing it all afternoon. The noise is driving me mad.
- Who ate the last cupcake? I was looking forward to having that as my snack. I bet it was my wee sister Abbie.
- We are going to the beach on Saturday. I hope it doesn't rain. It is no fun going to the beach when it is wet.

- Ms Galt is very sad. She dropped her phone in the dog's water bowl and now she can't talk to Mrs Miller, Mrs Henry and Mrs Sammeroff until it dries out.
- Is there anything more difficult than trying to choose just one bag of sweets when you are faced with jars and jars of deliciousness? I don't think so. It is absolute torture.
- What was that hideous noise? He froze to the spot and listened. Suddenly it came again. Jake clamped his hands over his ears trying to block it out but it was no use. He had a horrible feeling that he was uncomfortably close to a dragon.
