

Shona McGibbon Head Girl Speech

Hi, I'm Shona and I think I would be a good candidate for Head Girl as I'm responsible, outgoing and will use my personality to better my ability in speeches and representing S6. My experience in public speaking and debate club will help me to speak the minds of others in events and meetings. I wanted to run for this because I want to make a positive impact, help the school community, and also my sister said I didn't have the guts, so here I am.

Yeah that tall girl who likes Harry Potter might not be your typical candidate for head girl, but I'm willing to put myself out there to help others, want more responsibility and those who know me are aware of my resilience to finish a project.

I see myself as a good leader that puts everyone's ideas forward to make the finishing result better, as I see that as the main aspect of leading a team.

Charisma, observance and intelligence are three things I don't have, but I can promise my determination and perseverance will make me a good part to the Head Team.

I'm not here to run for President, but will assure 100% effort will be put in to every task to benefit the school as a whole

I don't want to be anything I'm not, so would always put my personality into my work and believe it could benefit my role in the Head Team.

If I became Head Girl, I would like to discuss the possibilities of more air-conditioning in the school, or even the likelihood of being able to leave our blazers in our lockers during hot days in surprising summers like this one(or the one that just finished).

Finally, I know a lot of people who have opinions that they want to share to benefit the school, but are too shy and lack the confidence of others, thinking that their voice doesn't matter, so, if I became Head Girl, I would speak up for those who don't want to, and I will not only listen to everyone, but communicate with you for feedback, no that, no matter what, everyone gets a say in St Ninian's.

Thank you.
