

As part of Maths Weeks Scotland (26th Sept – 2nd October) the Maths Department will be running a Twitter campaign in line with #ShowYourWorking. We will be using this social media campaign to reach out to staff, parents/carers and local professionals and industries to highlight the importance of maths across the entire workforce by showcasing real-life examples of how elements of the mathematics curriculum are used in practice.

We are asking for your help to take part and/or spread the word. We want as many people as possible to post on Twitter either with an image/video including their job title and how they use maths in their job including the following in their Tweet #ShowYourWorking, #MathsWeekScot and @WilliamwoodHS.

We hope that this will raise the profile of mathematics in our school, create discussions about future career aspirations and allow our pupils to see that maths is not just left in the classroom.

Many thanks in advance for your help with this matter and we look forward to reading your entries!
