

Primary 1-3 Class:

Welcome to our final class blog for this term. We will begin with some great news!

Worker of the Term!

George Jardine is the lucky recipient of this term's prize.

George has been working with bigger numbers in Maths this term. His writing content has been excellent and he reads consistently well.

Isn't that good news? George received a Body Lab kit for his efforts.

Here he is with his prize, his certificate and his Platinum credit card! Very well done indeed!

The Worker of the term now begins in earnest again as another will be awarded just before the Christmas holidays... no pressure everyone.... But if you get busy, a prize could be on the way to you!

Our Completed Hearts!

Here they are – on our door and windows! Don't they look beautiful? I must say I'm delighted with them. It was quite tricky to overlap the tissue paper over a blank space – but we managed it!

Primary Six!

Primary six joined us for the afternoon this week – and what a great time we had! We started our firework posters which hopefully can be finished off in their own class this week. We even finished the afternoon with a "Frog and Toad" story, which the children remembered fondly!

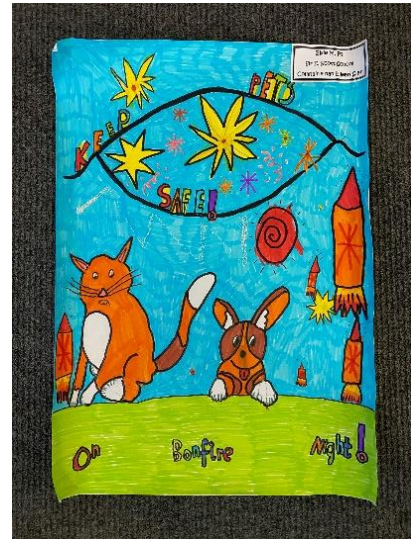

We thought Kyle looked far too small in our first picture, so amidst much amusement here he is in the second picture looking much taller!

Bonfire Night Competition:

This year we have entered the Scottish SPCA competition to raise awareness of how to be safe/ kind/ smart when it comes to the use of fireworks in the local community. The children were very taken with the theme of animal safety at this particular time of year and how animals might feel when there are sudden loud bangs and noises to make them feel anxious or worried. The entries had to be emailed away, which I have now done. The closing date for this competition is 13th October. Here's hoping.....

Don't they look beautiful? I was really pleased with the children's work. I think they will have to go up around the classroom to remind us about behaving responsibly when the time comes! Missing from our pictures is Elsie but worthy of a share as your picture is smashing!

.....Mrs. Mackinnon must have got busy quickly! Here are our competition entries! Finished and on the wall!

That's great to end the term, isn't it?

Awards:

Here's George with his Gold credit card!

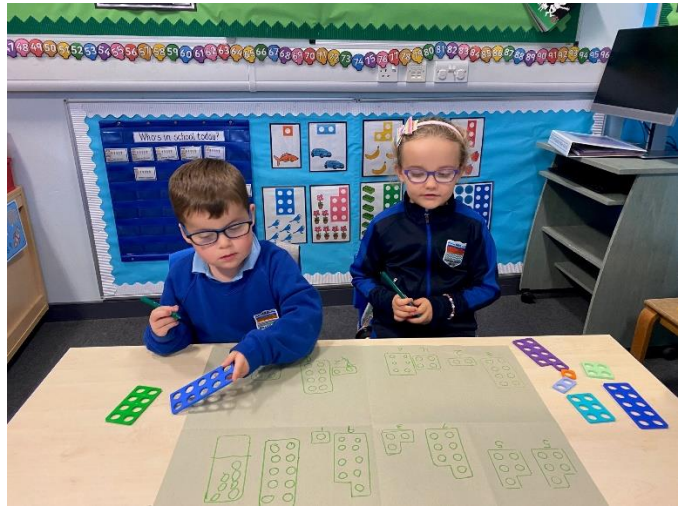

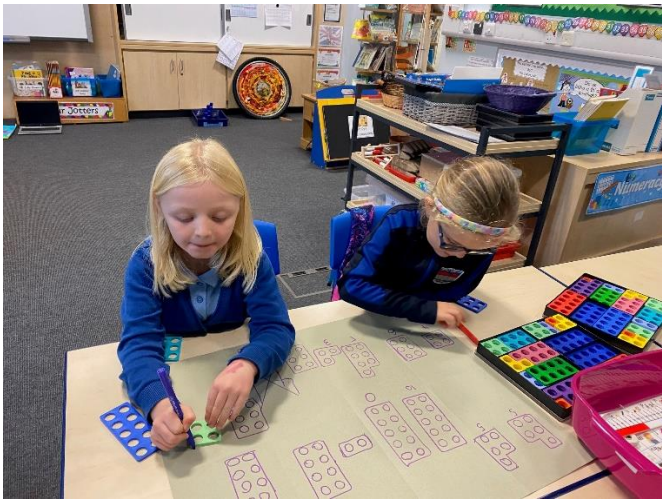

George has been busy working on his ten times table and can answer sixty questions in five minutes correctly!

He is now going to work on counting in twos – I'm sure you can do it George!

Very well done!

Maths: ...and yes, we really have been working on our Maths this week too!

Autumn and Brooke and Logan and Darcey are busy calculating friendly numbers of ten. They are using the Numicon to help them with their calculations! That's great teamwork you four!

Robert and Phoenix are busy recording some of their Maths work in their activity books.
George, Zoe and Rowan are busy on Sumdog.
Well done all of you!

Literacy:

...And working on some Literacy also!

You may recall our origami books with removable objects. We are trying to get these finished before the holidays. I'm not sure how successful we will be in our quest, but we're giving it our best shot!

George and Darcey are busy re-reading their work just to remind themselves of the content!

Zoe and Rowan couldn't resist taking out their removable object for closer inspection....neither could Cooper!

Brooke is busy reading through her written ideas!

Sharing:

We have had a few shares this week. Thinking about origami or paper folding, Zoe had made this super aeroplane using the art of paper folding, which she has been keen to share!

Brooke and Darcey both have their sparkly headbands and their snap watches for us to look at. Brooke also has her letter "B" keyring as shown in our picture...

Autumn has been busy perusing Stornoway Library again – and this time she's found this great book on the Human Body. It was a hit with us all in class!

Also, Autumn wanted us all to share this picture of herself and her dog taken when she was a baby. What a beautiful spaniel he is too. We were sorry to hear the family's sad news about their beautiful dog. Hopefully things will get easier in time....

Autumn likes to write and draw and here she is with her independent lists she has made at home – well done!

Phoenix has his Ninja Turtle model and his walkie talkie – and George has his Spiderman model.

Thank you everyone!

Our Last Day!

Here we are on our last day of term! We had a lovely day all together!

Many Happy Returns!

It's Many Happy Returns to Autumn Robson who is big six today!

She has opened her presents already and is looking forward to a tea party this evening! We hope you have a lovely day, Autumn!

Well, I think that's about it for this term! Have a lovely holiday everyone and I look forward to seeing you all after the October break!

Enjoy!
