

Global Citizenship in Scotland is a flexible professional learning programme for educators funded by the Scottish Government. Our online twilight courses are now live - click to book below.

2 Part

Rights across the curriculum: Teaching about, through and for rights

Monday 5 September 2022 16:30 - 18:00 | Monday 12 September 2022 16:30 - 18:00

This interactive, two-part course will help you to develop a rights-based approach across your teaching, learning and wider school life. Suitable for primary and secondary teachers.

2 Part

Exploring the Sustainable Development Goals: active learning approaches for the classroom

Tuesday 6 September 2022 16:30 - 18:00 | Tuesday 20 September 2022 16:30 - 18:00

This course is suited both to practitioners already familiar with the SDGs and those just starting their journey. Examine what the Goals are and how they link with a rights-based approach. Suitable for primary and secondary teachers.

2 Part

Active Global Citizenship in Science

Wednesday 7 September 2022 17:00 - 18:30 | Wednesday 5 October 2022 17:00 - 18:30

This two-part course for secondary science practitioners explores how a global citizenship approach to science enables learners to appreciate the relevance of science and investigate how it can be used to answer vital questions to global challenges.

1 Part

Global Citizenship & LfS in the Early Years

Thursday 15 September 2022 16:00 - 17:00

This interactive online session will give you an introduction to Global Citizenship and Learning for Sustainability, and how these can link to Rights and the UN Global Goals in early years settings.

2 Part

Climate Education: teaching for justice, hope and action in your classroom

Wednesday 21 September 2022 16:30 - 18:00 | Wednesday 5 October 2022 16:30 - 18:00

Delivered in partnership with Keep Scotland Beautiful, this course will support you to understand the environmental and social impacts of climate change and equip you with teaching strategies and practical activities which will support learners to better understand the causes and consequences of climate change. Suitable for primary and secondary teachers.

2 Part

An Anti-Racist Approach to Global Issues and Action (secondary)

Tuesday 27 September 2022 17:00 - 18:45 | Tuesday 4 October 2022 17:00 - 18:45

Delivered in partnership with the Anti-Racist Educator for secondary teachers of all subject areas. The course encourages participants to critically reflect on how we approach teaching and learning around global issues. It will introduce a framework, methodologies and resources which aim to support practitioners to decolonise the teaching of any global issue.

2 Part

Anti-Racism in the primary classroom: a Global Citizenship approach

Wednesday 28 September 2022 16:00 - 17:30 | Wednesday 5 October 2022 16:00 - 17:30

Explore ways to adopt an anti-racist approach within the primary classroom. We will explore how the lens of Global Citizenship is key to supporting anti-racist teaching and learning and creating a context which supports every young person to feel represented.