

Foods of the world

S2 Home Economics

Food of the World

- You will be carrying out a number of tasks and producing a folio of work called 'Food of the World'.
- Create a Home Economics folder under your server. Save all your work to this.
- Open a power point, you will add slides as we complete each task.
- TASK 1: Create a Front cover on the first slide with your Name, Food of the World as a clear title and any relevant images. (25 mins)
- Make sure your work looks good, the font you have chosen
- is easy to read as you will be using this font throughout the
- project.

Food of the World

- Using search engines and relevant websites answer the following questions on a powerpoint slide.
- 1. Most countries have a staple food. What is a staple food?
- 2. Name two countries where Rice is the staple food.
- 3. Potato is a staple food in the UK. What weather conditions do potatoes need to grow?
- 4. Name 2 UK dishes that use Potatoes.
- 5. Identify a staple food for each of the following countries:
 - Mexico Spain India Africa
- 6. For each country above give 3 traditional dishes such as Haggis, Neeps and Tatties for Scotland.

Food of the World

- Create an information poster on publisher/word about Scotland.
- Take control of your own learning, use success criteria to see if you can improve your work further (MUST, SHOULD AND COULD).
- Must
 - You must include
 - An image of the flag.
 - A sentence describing the climate (the weather)
 - Foods that are eaten in the country.
 - 3 images labelled of foods/dishes from that country.
- Should
 - Include an image of any landmarks in that country.
 - Include images that show the climate.
 - Find an image of the national dress.
- Could
 - Find a map of the country.
 - Find out the Staple Food of the Country.
 -

Scotland

The climate of Scotland tends to be very changeable, but rarely extreme. Although recently has suffered severe winds and snowfall.

Forth Rail Bridge

Wallace monument

Traditional kilt

Oats and barley remained the staple crop for the working mans' food in Scotland and porridge made with Scottish Oats became not only a cheap food but also one which was plentiful.

As Scotland is surrounded by sea fish is also a staple food especially in the coastal areas.

Scotland is also known for..

Haggis, Neeps and Tatties.

Whisky

Irn Bu

Deep fried mars bars!

Map of Scotland

SCOTLAND copyright www.beautiful-england.co.uk ©

Example

Food of the World

- Create a poster on publisher on MEXICO. All the information must be on one powerpoint slide
- Take control of your own learning, use success criteria to see if you can improve your work further (MUST, SHOULD AND COULD).
- Must
- You must include
- An image of the flag.
- A sentence describing the climate (the weather)
- Foods that are eaten in the country.
- 3 images labelled of foods/dishes from that country.
- Should
- Include an image of any landmarks in that country.
- Include images that show the climate.
- Find an image of the national dress.
- Could
- Find a map of the country.
- Find out the Staple Food of the Country.
-

Food of the World

- Create a slide for each answer below to make up a powerpoint:

- For each country listed below research a holiday/day they celebrate. Explain why they celebrate it, when in the year it is and traditional food/meal eaten on this day:

- Spain
- China
- Wales
- Japan
- Ireland
- Italy

