

How many trees?

Can you place some apples on the trees, can you show them to someone and ask them how many there are? See if you can tell how many there are without counting (this skill is called subitising).

Can you place some apples on one tree and some on the other? Can you add these two amounts together to give you the total number of apples?

If you had _____ apples how many different ways could you split them between both trees?

