Write a newspaper article from a chapter of a book you have been reading at home. Remember to include a catchy newspaper headline. Don't forget to include the 5W's in your opening paragraph – what, who, where, when and why.	You have been given £200 to plan your birthday party. Use websites to decide what you are going to spend your budget on. Collate your information in a table. Remember to show what you have spent your money on and how much you have left in your budget.	Research a type of renewable energy (e.g. wind, tidal, solar) and create a colourful poster highlighting it's benefits. Include images as well as facts.
I woke up with a start, something was in my room. The wardrobe doors opened and it came out of my wardrobe. Continue the imaginative story concentrating on adjectives and adverbs along with sophisticated openers.	Create a game which shows your understanding of times tables. It could be something like loop cards; a quiz with multiple choices or a speed challenge where you time yourself. Be creative!	Research a well-known individual who has contributed something to society. You may wish to ask an adult to help you with ideas. Create a presentation or poster about this person and why you admire them (maximum 4 slides for presentations).
Create a comic strip of your favourite book or story. Remember to show the main characters, main events, different settings and characters thoughts and feelings.	Looking out of your window, count all the different colours of cars you see driving past using tally marks. Then, create a graph of your choosing to display your information. Remember to label up your graph correctly!	Research the rules of hockey. Create a poster, PowerPoint Presentation, or film yourself explaining the rules. Remember to write down what the lines on the courts mean and the role of different players.
