

Introduction to Science Homework Week 1

Science is constantly making new discoveries and people are always finding new uses for the Science that is already known.

TASK:

Research an interesting science fact or news story on any area of SCIENCE

- new discoveries
- effects on the environment
- effects on health
- effects on society

Hopefully you will find out something surprising or has a WOW factor. Maybe you will find out something your teacher didn't know. We look forward to reading your new information.

The facts/ stories will be placed on the Science noticeboard for all to see.

You have been given a piece of card to record your interesting fact or story.

Focus on the key points of your research and make your card eye-catching!

Skills Development:

- developing research skills
- identifying reliable sources
- summarising information

These are keys skills to develop as you progress through any of the Sciences and will also help you study for exams and tests.
