

Explain the concentrations of hydrogen (H^+) and hydroxide (OH^-) ions in an acidic solution

In an acidic solution, the concentration of hydrogen ions (H^+) is greater than hydroxide ions (OH^-)