

Explain the concentrations of hydrogen (H^+) and hydroxide (OH^-) ions in a neutral solution

In a neutral solution there are equal concentrations of hydrogen ions and hydroxide ions