

Supertato and the Evil Pea

Once upon a time there was a pea who lived in a freezer in a large supermarket.

Unfortunately, this pea was very mean and very naughty.
He was always looking for trouble ..... big trouble!

First, he stuck Carrot on the conveyor belt – Help! Help!

Next, he drew on Broccoli's face – Aargh!

After that he wrapped Cucumber in toilet paper – Hmmmppffff!

Fortunately, there was someone who could help – Supertato to the rescue!

Supertato used his super speed and super strength.

Supertato said, "There's a pea on the loose!"

Everyone gasped, "Oh no – not a pea!"

"Yes!" said the pea. "I'm out of the freezer and I'm never going back! Mwah ha ha ha ha ha."

And off he ran.

But Supertato shouted, "That's enough!" and he set out on a super search for the pea.

First, he crept through the cakes

Next, he checked the cheese

After that he snuck up on the beans

Finally, he saw the pea!

Supertato yelled, "Stop! The game's up!"

But the evil pea jumped out of reach and Supertato was thrown down into the icy depths of the freezer!

The pea whispered – “You’re finished Supertato! Mwah ha ha ha ha.”

So Supertato used his super speed and super strength ... and ran away!

The pea chased him past the beans and the cheese and the cakes.

“You’re about to be mashed potato!!” threatened the pea.

“Not today my friend,” said Supertato.

Supertato set a trap. The pea jumped into a wobbly jelly and was well and truly stuck.

Supertato had saved the day. He grinned a super grin.

“Take him away!”

The pea was marched back to the freezer where he belonged.

The other vegetables were overjoyed and laughed and cheered.

And they ate up all the jelly!

3 2 1 My story’s done

