Undertaking the core assessment

- The Core Assessment Record provides a framework for systematically recording the findings from the core assessment. Whilst the Assessment Record provides some guidance on the areas that should be covered in a core assessment, it is a tool and should not be used as a substitute for a professionally informed assessment process, analysis and judgement.
- The questionnaires and scales published in the accompanying materials to the Framework for the Assessment of Child in Need and their Families may be useful in obtaining the information in specific areas (Department of Health, Cox and Bentovim, 2000). The Assessment Record indicates where particular questionnaires and scales may be useful. Practitioners may also choose to use other assessment tools to assist them.
- The Core Assessment Record may be completed in a number of different ways. For example, the social worker may wish to discuss each area with the family before completing the record and then share this with the family. Alternatively, having undertaken some or all of the core assessment the social worker may wish to complete the form with the child's parents or carers.
- Parents and carers invariably want to do the best for their children. Completing the record will help social workers to recognise the strengths that families have as well as identifying areas where they may need further help.
- Completing the core assessment should always be done in a way that helps parents or carers, children and other relevant family members to have their say and encourages them to take part. Space has been provided within the forms for parents/carers and older children to be involved in the assessment.
- It is expected that other agencies should be involved, as appropriate, during the core assessment process. Parental permission to contact other agencies should be obtained except in cases where the safety of the child would be jeopardised (paragraphs 7.27 to 7.38 of Working Together to Safeguard Children provides guidance on this issue). Permissions should be obtained from other agencies to share their information with the family.
- It is important that all sections of the Core Assessment Record are considered carefully. The analysis of the information gathered should be recorded in the plan. In some cases it will not be appropriate to complete particular sections, and in such situations the reason why should be recorded in the summary section. The information gathered is then used to develop case objectives and plans.
- In completing the record, it should be possible to see what help and support the child and family need, and which agencies might be best placed to give that help. This might include more detailed assessments of specific issues.
- Families should be provided with the following information:

Complaints procedures	date provided _____
Information on access to records	date provided _____
Other relevant/available information (please specify)	date provided _____

Health

Child's needs

Summary/clarification of child's needs

Normally well is defined as unwell for 1 week or less in the last 6 months.

Details of immunisations in health record held by parents.

Immunisations 2-4 months:
Diphtheria/Tetanus/Whooping cough;
Polio; Hib;
meningococcal C vaccine

12-15 months:
Measles/Mumps/Rubella.

Babies of substance using mothers may suffer: tremors screaming,

Disabled children can face barriers in accessing routine medical care.

All children should be taken regularly to the dentist from 2 years of age.

To gather further information consider using the Home Conditions Assessment.

Black families may have less access to preventative and support services than white families.

Child's needs

Summary/clarification of child's needs

Soon after birth children respond to sound and voices. By 2 there is an increase in vocabulary.

After 6 months children start to engage in social play. Pretend play starts at approx. 12-15 months.

Consider referring children with communication difficulties for a specialist assessment (i.e. speech therapist).

E1	Child is making expected progress with speech and language	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
E2	Child responds appropriately to sounds and voices	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
E3	Child shows curiosity about his/her environment, people, toys etc	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
E4	Child plays at an age-appropriate level	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Parental capacity

Summary/clarification of family strengths or issues identified
Note when issue is not relevant

When a child has not reached an expected developmental milestone consider referring for a specialist assessment.

When a parent has a learning disability only 15% of children are similarly affected.

Safe outside play areas are important because accidents are the major cause of death amongst children.

Parents own problems may mean they respond less frequently to their child's cues.

To gather further information consider using the Family Activity Scale.

All children need adequate and appropriate stimulation.

When a child has profound or complex impairments it may be necessary to check with a specialist before completing this section.

The key to children's educational progress is a parent or significant adult who takes an interest in their learning and offers praise and encouragement.

Emotional and Behavioural Development: Selfcare skills

Children who show poor attachment may be suffering from substance withdrawal symptoms.

Short lived temper tantrums are to be expected.

To gather further information consider using The Parenting Daily Hassles Scale.

Children who are abused or witness domestic violence may wake up screaming or crying.

Parental capacity

Summary/clarification of family strengths or issues identified Note when issue is not relevant

Children as young as 18 months can become distressed during angry exchanges between adults.

Most at risk are children who are victims of aggression, or are neglected.

Children who are abused or witness domestic violence are particularly traumatised.

Younger or disabled children may be at greater risk than older, more articulate children because they are less able to tell anyone about their experiences and distress.

A disabled child may not protest when left with strangers because they have been handled by many unknown people. Nonetheless it remains a matter for concern.

		Yes	No

Identity and Social Presentation

Child's needs

Summary/clarification of child's needs

9-12 months is the beginning of self identity.

At end of second year children can recognise self in mirror and are aware of physical differences.

At 6-9 months children reach for familiar persons.

By 12-18 months children develop a sense of me and mine.

		Yes	No
ID&P1	Child is self confident	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ID&P2	Child has a positive view of self	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ID&P3	Child takes pride in his/her achievements	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

ID&P5	Child approaches familiar persons
ID&P6	Child asserts 'rights' with sibs/peers by 2 years	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ID&P7	After 2 years, the child knows his or her own gender	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ID&P8	Other	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Parental capacity

Summary/clarification of family strengths or issues identified Note when issue is not relevant

Children who grow up in families which experience many stresses and problems will need positive messages to avoid developing a negative self image and poor self esteem. Disabled children need even more help.

Disabled children have a right to be dressed appropriately but their dress should not impede movement, endanger stability or aggravate their skin.

	Basic care	Yes	No
ID&P9	Child's clothes are clean: not soiled with urine, excrement, or food	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ID&P10	Child's clothes are routinely washed	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Parental capacity

Summary/clarification of family strengths or issues identified

Note when issue is not relevant

Parental problems may result in children being looked after by a large number of different people.

A good attachment relationship is associated with parents being emotionally available and consistent in their parenting.

Love and affection are shown in different ways depending on culture and individual characteristics.

	Yes	No
Basic care

Parental capacity

Summary/clarification of family strengths or issues identified

Note when issue is not relevant

The presence of a supportive adult can help stressed parents to cope.

For a disabled child, practical and social barriers can make taking the child out difficult, but it remains essential to the child's wellbeing.

Of central importance to a child in all families is a loving and protective relationship.

Continuity and stability are key aspects of the attachment process.

Family and Environmental Factors which may impact on the child and parenting capacity

Additional details as appropriate
Note identity of person for whom the issue is relevant

Include all household and relevant family members, living in or out of the home, when exploring family history and functioning.

To gather further information consider using: The Recent Life Events Questionnaire; A genogram; An eco-map.

How parents bring up their children is rooted in their own childhood experiences.

Consider whether a separate carers' assessment is required.

Both positive and negative parenting styles can be passed from one generation to another.

To gather further information consider using: The Adult Well-being Scale; The Alcohol Scale.

Wider family may extend beyond blood relatives to include people who feel like family to parent or child.

Jobs may be lost because parents' circumstances result in them behaving in a bizarre or unpredictable way.

Parents' circumstances may mean too much family income is used to satisfy parental needs.

Adult services may help a disabled parent respond to their child's needs.

The family may be vulnerable to future financial problems (i.e. extraordinary medical, funeral expenses, need to help out a relative).

Social isolation and rejection by the community may have affected the family for generations.

Plan for the child in need

- Having completed the information gathering, the following pages should be used to analyse the strengths and needs of the child and family members and to identify goals and specific objectives. This information is then used to formulate a plan of action. The decision about which methods are used and services are provided to achieve specific objectives should be evidence based. The expectations of a plan for a child in need are outlined in paragraphs 4.32 to 4.37 of the Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and Their Families (2000).
- The plan for a child in need has been designed to enable it to be used for all children in need, including those about whom there are concerns they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm.
- The plan should identify how the following will be addressed:
  - The identified developmental needs of the child;
  - Issues which impact negatively on parents/carers' capacity to respond to the child and needs of their child, drawing on their strengths;
  - Wider family and environmental factors which have a negative impact on the child and family, drawing on strengths in the wider family and community.
- The plan should be specific about the actions to be taken, identify who is responsible for each action, and any services or resources that will be required to ensure that the objectives set can be achieved within the agreed time scales. Statutory reviews should take place within statutory time limits and it is good practice for Child In Need plans to be reviewed at least every 6 months. Reviews should be formally recorded.
- The outcome section of the table should be completed following a review of the plan. When completing the outcome section record the outcome for each objective and whether the circumstances have; improved, remained the same, or deteriorated.
- The last page records which family members and agencies are party to the plan and the date when the plan will be reviewed. This should be signed by the child (where appropriate), family members/carers and the social worker.
