“I think it's been needed.... something like this has been needed because quite often practitioners... to go deeper into some of these very important concepts, [they don't know] how to approach them. So to have a text that really does deal with it is a lovely springboard.”

(Nursery Practitioner, Greater Manchester, 2023)

SCOTLAND'S CURRICULUM FOR EXCELLENCE (CfE) and THINK EQUAL

Think Equal links seamlessly with the Curriculum for Excellence: Health and Wellbeing Scotland. The Four Capacities of the CfE are embedded into the programme facilitating children's learning through play in meaningful contexts to become:

- Successful Learners: develop lifelong critical, creative thinking, and problem-solving skills
- Confident Individuals: empowered through positive sense of 'self', & holistic wellbeing
- Responsible Citizens: supported in becoming agentic, responsible transformers of society
- Effective Contributors: provided with tools to manage feelings, take responsibility for and ownership of actions and impact.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES:

To place inclusivity, equality and diversity at the centre of learning

- To build prosocial brains
- To tackle violence, abuse and antisocial behaviour at its root cause
- To support wellbeing and development: for mental wellbeing & positive life outcomes
- To resource teachers and practitioners with the tangible tools to embed foundational social and emotional skills.

Our books and resources comprehensively build 25 social skills and competencies:

"I think that the staff... are so tuned in too, they've altered the way that they speak to the children... The children are happier to talk about how they're feeling and what's going on in their lives. And I think it's given [teachers]... that confidence"
(Reception teacher, UK, 2023).
