Transforming troubled lives together

Creating a culture of belonging

Free online conference

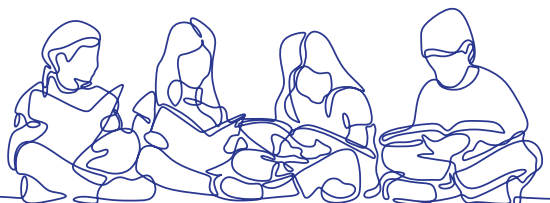

Thursday 26 June 09.30 - 12.30

What helps children and young people feel like they belong to their school community?

The Mulberry Bush is contributing to the ongoing conversation about the importance of belonging in educational settings by providing a platform for educators to learn and share research for cultivating this important aspect of school culture.

The Mulberry Bush is hosting a free online conference featuring Ceri Brown and Alison Douthwaite from Bath University, Ellie Costello from Square Peg and David Colley, Matt Wareham and Caryn Onions from The Mulberry Bush.
