

Responsible Citizen

We learn to respect others, make good choices and take responsibility for our actions and our part in the wider community.

Integrity	Feeling	Sense-Making

Integrity means trying to do the right thing. It is about being honest and fair, knowing what is important to us and thinking about how our choices affect ourselves and others.	Feeling means thinking about other people. It is about noticing how others may think or feel and trying to understand different points of view.	Sense-Making means using information to understand things and solve problems. It is about spotting patterns, making connections and working out what information means.

Confident Individuals

We learn to believe in ourselves, make positive choices and develop the confidence to do our best in learning and in life.

Initiative	Leadership	Critical thinking

Initiative means having the confidence to think for ourselves and have a go. It is about getting started, making choices and taking responsibility for what we do.	Leadership means taking responsibility and helping others to work towards a shared goal. It is about encouraging others, sharing ideas and helping a group to succeed.	Critical Thinking means thinking carefully about information. It is about asking questions, solving problems, making good choices and explaining our thinking.

Successful Learners

We develop the skills and knowledge we need to enjoy learning and do well. We learn to work independently, think carefully and use our creativity.

Focusing	Collaborating	Curiosity
 filtering Sorting Focusing attention manage the now	 relationship building Collaborating team work cultural awareness	 asking questions observation Curiosity problem recognition
Focusing means paying attention to what is important. It is about managing distractions, sorting information and staying focused on a task.	Collaborating means working well with other people. It is about sharing ideas, listening to others, helping one another and solving problems together.	Curiosity means wanting to know, learn and find out more. It is about noticing things, asking questions, finding information and exploring different ways to solve a problem.

Effective contributors

We learn to share our ideas, solve problems, be creative, work well with others and take the initiative.

Adapting	Communicating	Creativity
 resilience openness Adapting critical reflection self learning	 questioning Communicating listening story telling giving information	 generating ideas Creativity imagination visualising
Adapting means being able to cope with change and try different ways of doing things. It is about learning from our experiences, keeping going when things are difficult and being open to new ideas.	Communicating means sharing ideas and information clearly with other people. It is also about listening carefully so that we understand one another.	Creativity means using our imagination to think of new ideas and different ways to do things. Creativity is not only about art, drama or music. We can use it to answer questions, solve problems and support our learning.