

NDHS Library News.

The school library has been a busy place since the start of the new term in January. Apart from the timetabled English classes, the library has been used as a venue for prelim exams and folio preparation for Modern Studies, History, Media Studies and English.

Now that February is upon us planning is underway for World Book Day on Thursday 7th March 2019. This year's theme is share a story and in conjunction with the school's Fair Trade Group a literacy café event will be the highlight of the day. Watch this space for more details.

The current book exhibition is not the usual themed style. It is in fact an apology to staff and pupils for not being the usual high standard of display that they have come to expect from the librarian.
