P6 Pick n' Mix!

Let's shake things up and do some TV show themed learning activities to try out during our three day week. Have fun!

Newsround Write a news article based either on fact or make up a news story. Try to write using formal, factual, up levelled language that news readers tend to use. They do not use a lot of descriptive or figurative language. OR Make a mini newspaper with lots of different articles, stories and activities. Use a newspaper in your house as a WAGOLL. OR Do a Newsround style news report for your family or for our Teams group including lots of short articles using short notes with bullet points. It could be a serious or funny one. 	Master Mind Make up a quiz based on your favourite subject and ask your questions to another member of your family or post them on Teams for others to have a go. OR Ask someone to make up questions to ask you about your chosen subject. OR Ask someone their favourite subject and make up questions to ask them about it. You could add a timer and a special 'hot seat' for even more tension! 	The Price is Right Guess the prices of items around your house and go online to see how close you were to the actual real prices OR Make a shopping list of around 10 everyday items and go online to compare prices across different online shops. See how cheaply you can price all of those items. 	Coronation Street Spelling Go for a walk around your area and see how many Street names you can spell correctly. LOOK at the name, SAY the name, COVER your eyes, SPELL the name, CHECK if you have it correct. You could even write the names down if you want an extra practise when you get home. 	Supermarket Sweep Get someone to lay out items and have a list of prices. You will then be set a budget for example £10. Your challenge will be to run around and collect items which will get you as close as possible to the budget target. OR Lay out items and get someone to write a hidden list of prices based roughly on what they would really cost. Try and work out which items would get you closest to your budget target.
Would I Lie to You? Pick a strange and unusual word from a dictionary. Write down two different definitions for that word, the real one and a made up one. See if you can make up a believable enough definition and make a convincing enough explanation for someone in your house to guess the wrong definition. OR Tell two truths and a fib and see if someone can guess which one is the fib. 	Grand Designs Think back to our Europe topic and all of the wonderful landmarks across European cities. Can you design and build one of these using junk materials? Think about the Eiffel Tower, the Leaning Tower of Pizza or the London Eye to name a few. 	Weather Report Think back to the weather reports we made in school. Create a weather report for this area, Scotland, the UK or Europe. You could look this up online or make one up. We used maps on the computer for our background last time. You could do this again or use other technology. Alternatively you could use a map from a book or draw one. Challenge yourself to see if you can still do your weather report in another language talking about the different types of weather or seasons. Share this with your family or on Teams. 	Bullseye Create a target board using a dart board, old tins, boxes or hoops. Position each target in a different place ranging in difficulty. Give each target a score. Use a ball, dart, scrunchie or paper to try to throw into or at the targets. You could even try tennis or golf using a frying pan or an old wrapping paper tube. Use your addition skills to calculate the scores. For more of a challenge, use bigger numbers or avoid round numbers ending in 0. Calculate the differences between the scores at the end. 	Chain Letters Start with a 3 letter word, e.g. EAT. Now try to add on one more letter and make a new word, e.g. MEAT. You can mix the existing letters up if you wish (e.g. TEAM). This continues (TEAMS, MASTER, MASTERS) until you can't continue. Now try another word. OR Choose a 4 or 5 letter word, e.g. MATE. Now try to change one letter to make a new word - MADE. Continue doing this until no more words can be made. Now try a new word.

Horrible Histories      Take any aspect of History that appeals to you. How can you model this/re-enact this? Pick from any period in history. Some examples include: Victorian classrooms, factories, famous inventions, Anderson shelters, Titanic, castles, Viking longboats, Roman battle strategies and share your creations with us on Teams! Horrible histories will give you some great inspiration. You can find clips on youtube or BBC iplayer. 	Top Gear      Design your dream car. Create a diagram and label it. You could even give your car a name. OR create a top 10 of your favourite cars. You could write a fact file about each with good points and bad points.      OR      Make your own pretend vehicle, Eg: rocket, bus, tank, racing car. Make sure it has all the necessary features!      Fancy more of a challenge? Then how about a vehicle that can move by itself. Get a toy car and design it a racetrack or a whole road system complete with petrol stations, car parks, tunnels, level-crossings etc from things lying around the house! 	Masterchef      Create and fabulous recipe OR help someone at home whip up some delicious food. Share your pictures on Teams!      OR      Do a pretend cook show using pretend food.      OR      Design your ideal menu with starter, main course, dessert. Don't forget your favourite drink and sides. You could draw each course! 	Sport Scene      Create your fantasy sports team. This could be any sport you choose for example football, basketball, netball, rugby. Give your team a name, a strip and a mascot.      OR      Create a gymnastic routine or a training routine.      OR      Write a sports report about your favourite sport or team. 	Eurovision Song Contest      As Europe was one of our P6 topics this year, we can't let the month of May go by without doing a tribute to the Eurovision Song Contest. Step into your jazziest costume, perform a well-known song or create your very own song! You could add a dance routine and add instruments or some props if you like. You could perform this to your family or on Teams or just simply have fun doing this without performing for anyone!

Countdown Letters Game      Use 9 randomly selected letters to make the longest word you can in a set time      OR      Use 9 randomly selected letters to make as many words you can in a set time  http://happysoft.org.uk/countdown/wordgame.php Countdown Maths Game      Make 2 piles of numbers. The first pile should contain 2 of each from 1 through to 9. The second pile should contain two 10's, two 20's and two 50's. Choose 6 randomly selected numbers (2 from the large number pile and 4 from the small number pile). To start pick a random number below 100 as a target. Try to work out a calculation using the numbers you have to reach or get close to the target number. Add a timer for more tension. If you want to challenge yourself, make your target numbers between 100 and 1000. You can add, subtract, multiply or divide. Remember that you don't have to use all of the 6 numbers that you have picked and you can't use the same number twice unless you have two of them.      OR      Try the Countdown game online  https://nrich.maths.org/6499
