The story so far...

In Summer 2014 The Moray Council was given the opportunity to bid for additional funding from the Scottish Government for school improvements. The criteria for this funding was:

- the funding must be used to improve schools from a rating of D or C for condition to a rating of B or A;
- the funding must be additional to the Council's existing approved programme for school improvements;
- the Council must make an additional contribution of at least 50% of the value of the additional funding;
- The programme of works must be completed by the end of financial year 2016/17 (31st March 2017).

The Council put together a bid based on the above criteria and also sought to maximise the number of children who would benefit from the funding. The council's bid involved refurbishing 4 schools Millbank, Seafield, St Gerardine and Applegrove with a combined total of over 1,200 pupils and an anticipated value in excess of £17m. The main aspirations are to create:

- Improvement of buildings to a B rating allowing high standards for maintenance and upkeep
- High quality, efficient and smart buildings indicating value for money without appearing wasteful or ostentatious.
- A safe and secure environment for pupils to enjoy learning and for staff to work in.
- Updated buildings creating a friendly welcoming environment for 21st Century education.

In November 2014 the Council learned that its bid had been approved and since then has been working hard with staff and pupils at all 4 schools to finalise the plans and programme of works.

In April this year Morrison Construction were appointed as the main contractor.

Alex Johnston
