

1*Blether Stations*Where Am I?

Lucy sat with her cat, Masie, on her lap. They both looked nervously towards the door. A dog with a bandage on its tail came out of the room as a voice called, "Next!"

2*Blether Stations*Where Am I?

There was a smell of chlorine in the air as Fred came out of the changing rooms. A small child with arm bands ran past him.

3*Blether Stations*Where Am I?

Kate approached the enclosure with big eyes. A tiny monkey sat trying to open a banana.

4*Blether Stations*Where Am I?

Lottie pushed off from the side, holding onto her dad's arm very tightly for warmth and balance. More confident people skated past them, nearly causing Lottie to fall over.

5

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

The sirens screamed as they turned another sharp corner. Inside, Nancy gave a little moan of pain as she was given an injection in her arm.

6

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

“Put it on the scale,” said the smiling man. “That’s great. First or second class?”

7

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Tia sat on the chair, with her mouth open, staring into the light. There was a little basin beside the chair and a small tray with scary looking instruments on it.

8

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Maggie sat reading her magazine with the foils in her hair. All around her, people were chatting. The noise of the dryers was almost deafening.

9

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Martin looked down at his list and checked off what he already had. He looked up at the sign to see where he would find the spices he needed.

10

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Cindy stared up at the departure board. Not long to go! She joined the queue with her family. They began to take off their shoes and belts as they moved slowly forward.

11

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Arlo frowned as he thought hard about what would go with the tulips better: the carnations or the roses.

12

Blether Stations

Where Am I?

Dan didn't know where to start; there were just so many aisles. He stared at the action figures and the remote control cars. He couldn't wait till his birthday and his gran giving him money so that he could come back here.

Identifying Verbs Blether Stations Answers

1. Vet
2. Swimming Pool
3. Zoo
4. Ice Rink
5. Ambulance
6. Post Office
7. Dentist
8. Hairdresser
9. Supermarket
10. Airport
11. Florist
12. Toy Shop